Skuino is a powerful note taking application that supports synchronization and offline access. It can be used to keep track of notes, ideas, to-do lists, and anything else you need to keep organized. You can share notes and other items with others using shared items. You can also easily upload the notes, items, and items from other people and/or teams to private collections. This application has a simple interface. You can navigate around to create your notes and to access your collections and shared items. Skuino supports importing text files and html files and you can save items to different folders, tags, and tags with categories. The application does have some limitations. For instance, you cannot add nested tags, and you cannot add tags to items that do not have tags. Additionally, this application does not support project management or task management. Stickfig is a vector graphics editor designed with digital illustration in mind. This graphic design tool lets you create artistic vector images in 2D from any bitmap or vector image source. You can also crop, rotate, resize, and add text to the designs, and you can also remove backgrounds, crop them and add a custom background color, and even save the image to a file. In addition to that, you can combine different design elements and effects and then export them to PNG, JPG, and SVG image files. Other important features include copy and paste, undo and redo, background grayscale and chroma grayscale, image cloning, and saving of artwork for web and print. Although the interface is quite minimalist, it provides all the tools you need for creating your own designs. You can export your projects to SVG or JPG files. In addition to that, Stickfig allows you to export to PDF, EPS, PNG, and many other formats. The program has some serious limitations. For instance, you cannot add advanced text effects to the designs or change the design elements such as shadows, gradients, or text. However, you can use other people's designs and combine them with your own. Mazelet is a tool that offers a self-hosted web-based mindmapping application. It lets you create mindmaps, plot them, and manipulate them, and you can add maps to the service and share them with other users. You can view mindmaps in a web browser or download them in a variety of formats, including PDF, JPG, PNG, and SVG
