Only in this case, he is talking about the "Customer Support" part and not about the "Code Testing" one. I'm sorry that I did not understand what he was asking for. Let me explain better. Do you need the "activate" feature of software? In this case, an activation code is not necessary. The person that posted what he did to activate AutoCAD Mechanical should have inserted the activation code. Also, the activation code is very obvious, as they are composed of numbers and letters.
