Then the system knows that the file must be save with that type and with that extension. That is why the image file is saved with extension in mime type. I think that should work fine. You can get file type like this: $mime = mime_content_type($file); You can set the MIME type like this: header('Pragma: public'); header('Cache-Control: must-revalidate, post-check=0, pre-check=0'); header('Content-Description: File Transfer'); header('Content-Type: '. mime_content_type($file)); header('Content-Disposition: attachment; filename='.$file); header('Content-Transfer-Encoding: binary'); header('Content-Length: '. filesize($file)); // send the file readfile($file); 1.
