Q: Simple java web app with jsp to access and store data in database For my college homework, I have to make a simple java web app that will access data from database via jsp and then store this data in database. I have no real clue on how to start this project but I already have a database and set up a jsp with echos to see what is happening. I'm assuming that I need a servlet to access/get data from the database and an API to write data to the database? I have no real experience so any help would be appreciated. Thank you. A: Let's imagine that your database is MySQL database (it doesn't have to be MySQL), you can start this project by creating the three classes. They are the servlets, the model and the dao. And then let's create the data access layer. Servlets A servlet is a simple Java class that will listen on a specific port, this can be accessed to perform some actions. This is the best way to use a servlet: public class TestServlet extends HttpServlet {

@Override protected void

doGet(HttpServletRequest request, HttpServletResponse response) throws ServletException, IOException {
response.setContentType("text/html");
PrintWriter out = response.getWriter();
out.println(""); out.println("");
out.println("Test Servlet"); out.println("");
out.println(""); out.println("Hello World");

The data access layer is a hard part. It's the point where, if you are using a database (MySQL), the queries will be. In the example above, you can Q: How can I escape a string of xml I want to escape a string with xml but the string is in a variable $a. I've tried `trim(str_replace('\"', '\"', $a))` but it doesn't work, so I've tried `\"; $c = \"', '>', $a); $dd = str_replace('\"', '\"', $a); ?>` but the output is the same Basically I want my string to be "something" But I want the other strings to be &" because of different outputs. EDIT: `test'; $b = 'test'; $c = 'test'; $d = 'test'; ?> test"; $b = "test"; $c = "test"; $d = "test"; ?>`

`print_r(var_dump($a));` output: `array(1) { ["test"]=> string(3) "test" } Array ( )`
